Pictured l-r at the launch of The Renwick are Howard Lorber, Francisco Pujol, Karen Mansour, Henry Orlinsky, Ismael Leyva, Harry Jeremias, Frances Katzen. The 12-story modern, technologically advanced condominium located on an exclusive one-block street in West SoHo, was designed by architect Ismael Leyva and includes 44 units. The building will have an open air sculpture garden, library, boxing gym, sky lit lap pool, sauna, home automation system, and a premier technology package. Underground private parking and valet service will also be available to residents. The building's all glass exterior is an energy efficient quadruple-cavity curtain wall that will allow the building to be almost 40% more efficient than required by New York City code.
